Joey Simeone- Grade 6,

App Rationale:

Our app is to warn people like hikers to not step on river cane.

Design Process:

We started by thinking about ways to help the environment and thought about Cumberland Gap Trail Alliance and thought about endangered river cane.

Target Audience:

We designed our app for anyone to use to help protect and plant river cane.

User Interface, User Experience, Coding Concepts:

We made our app buttons large so they are easy to find and use. There is lots of information about river cane and how to protect it.

Next Steps:

We would like to add trails where river cane is found and more about the moths.
